Twin-Path Slings

World's Strongest & Lightest Lifting Slings

- Inspection system external warning indicators (EWI) that extend from the cover of the sling. If the sling is overloaded, the EWI will retract, indicating that the sling's integrity has been compromised.
- Two individual paths work together as one sling – providing the rigger with redundant backup protection if one of the paths is cut.
- High-performance fibers are resistant to chemicals, heat, and moisture.
- Superior abrasion resistance and contrasts with the internal red covers to assist in visual inspections for cut and wear.
